

ROCK POINT CENTER FACILITIES

Rock Point Conference Center

The Rock Point Conference Center is a two-story, waterfront structure located at 20 Rock Point Road that is steps away from Eagle Bay and offers spectacular views of lake and forest. The first floor of the center includes an entry way, a large conference room that comfortably accommodates roughly 50 people, a library or meeting space that comfortably seats 15-20 people, an industrial kitchen, two bathrooms, and a private office with waterfront views. The second floor includes a one-bedroom apartment with lake and forest views, four offices with waterfront views, two bathrooms, a small common area, and a laundry room. The conference center also has ample storage space.

The conference room opens to a large stone patio with lake views and trails leading down to the swimming area at Eagle Bay and Rock Point's walking trails. The patio offers an outdoor, woodfired pizza oven.

Van Dyck Building

The Van Dyck Building is a two-story, waterfront building that is suitable for lodging, office space, and classroom space.

On the first floor, there are six rooms traditionally used for lodging, each with a private or shared bathroom. There is also a two-bedroom apartment with lake and forest views, a gas fireplace, and a small kitchenette.

On the second floor, there are five rooms traditionally used for lodging and three bathrooms.

The Kerr Building

Located on the waterfront, next to the Rock Point Conference Center at 20 Rock Point Road, the Kerr Building is a two-story structure located next to the conference center. On the first floor, there is a high arched ceiling chapel with visibility of Eagle Bay, two bathrooms, a kitchenette, and a large meeting room that comfortably accommodates up to 25 people (the Swenson room). On the second floor, accessible from a separate entrance, is a meeting space that comfortably seats five to six people and a balcony (the brown room).

The Rock Point Cabins

Rock Point offers five rustic, three-season cabins. The cabins are located near the conference center, with easy access to parking, the walking trails, and the swimming cove at Eagle Bay.

The following four cabins offer private bathrooms, basic kitchenettes, bunk beds, and a living area, plus access to an outdoor grill and fire pit.

- Bliss & Weeks Cabins: Sleep six (6), separate bedroom, combination kitchen/living space. One bathroom with (2) toilets and (1) shower. Wood stove for chilly nights.
- Butterfield & Van Dyck Cabins: Sleeps eight (8), separate bedroom, combination kitchen/living space. One bathroom with (2) toilets and (2) showers. No woodstove.

The fifth cabin, McLeod, offers a larger meeting space suitable for 15-20 people, and basic kitchen facilities.
